USC New Odontic Seminar

Creating Prosthodontic Excellence in Your Dental Practice

A Monthly Program of Study in Prosthetic Dentistry:
September 2004 - June 2005
Los Angeles (Fridays) • San Diego (Wednesdays)

The New Odontic Seminar is designed to offer presentations by outstanding dental practitioners and educators in an open forum that promotes communication and exchange of ideas. The goal is to provide participants with comprehensive, practical and clinically applicable information.

This 70th year of Odontic Seminar brings us back to improving the quality of patient care in the everyday practice of prosthodontics and restorative dentistry. New applications and techniques for implants, fixed and removable restorations, all ceramic restorations, attachments, and improved communications with dental technicians will complete this year's curriculum. The emphasis continues to be the diagnosis of comprehensive treatment for full mouth oral rehabilitations. Treatment planning will continue to be an integral part of the seminar. Participants will be able to bring mounted diagnostic casts and discuss the cases with our expert faculty.

Seminars will include:

- A review of basic and new techniques in prosthodontic and implant treatment based on evidence-based dentistry
- The latest developments in the practice of dentistry
- Step-by-step techniques and newest technology and diagnostic concepts
- Afternoon sessions featuring trends, techniques, new products and advanced treatment planning

This course is designed for the:

- General Dentist
- Orthodontist
- Prosthodontist
- Oral-Maxillofacial Surgeon
- Periodontist
- Dental Hygienist/Assistant
- Endodontist
- Dental Lab Technician
